WHERE IS HOME FOR YOU?

Charles R. Rose

“This world is not my home, I’m just a passing through. My treasure is laid up, Somewhere beyond the blue; The angels beckon me From heavens open door. And I can’t feel at home In this world any more.” These words from Albert E. Brumley’s beautiful song prompt the question, “Where is ‘home’ for you?” Most of us will answer, by giving either the city of our birth or the place we now live as “home”. But, is it really? Jesus came to call us out of this world to a different way of life. He said that His disciples were “in the world but not of the world” (John 15:19). Jesus said of himself that He was not of this world, and neither should we be. He calls us into a different kingdom. When we obey the gospel of Christ by believing and being baptized (Mark 16:16) we are “delivered out of the power of darkness and translated into the kingdom of God’s dear Son” (Colossians 1:13). Our citizenship is in heaven and not of this world (Philippians 3:20).

Peter says that we are “strangers and pilgrims in this earth” (1 Peter 2:11). It is very easy to become too much at home down here. This world can become our goal, our dream and when this happens it takes away our anticipation of the better world which awaits those who are faithful to Christ (John 14:1-3; 1 Peter 1:4). This leads to selfishness, taking care of our own needs and wants, and forgetting the greater cause of the kingdom of God. It is vital for us to remember - this world is not our home.

What does it matter? So what if this world is not my home and I’m just passing through? What difference does it make in me today, right now? It should cause me to think about whether my life is right with God. If this world is passing away with everything in it, as the Bible promises in 2 Peter 3:10, it would be foolish for me to stake my eternity on this world and its events.

It should cause me to think of my influence on others. We are not at home in this world, but while here we are “the light of the world,” which leads people from here to God (Matthew 5:13-16). As God’s children we are to “shine as lights in the world” as we “hold forth the word of life” (Philippians 2:15-16).

It should cause me to think more of where I will spend eternity than what I will do in retirement. If I retire wealthy in this life, I can’t take any of it with me (1 Timothy 6:7). Wouldn’t it be the greatest misjudgment of all to stake my life and health on what is only temporary, while ignoring eternity?

We should live each day of our lives on this earth as though it might be our last, because it very-well may be. Solomon said, “Do not boast yourself of tomorrow, for you do not know what a day will bring forth” (Proverbs 27:1). If your life is not right with God at this very moment, don’t waste another day unprepared to meet Him. Declare your faith in Him, repent of your sins, and be baptized, because tomorrow may be too late. Then live for Him every day as His faithful child.

“O Lord you know I have no friend like you, If heavens not my home, Then Lord what will I do? The angels beckon me. From heaven’s open door, And I can’t feel at home in this world any more.”

Lean In And Listen

Ted Hook Knight

When tomorrow comes, if the Lord should come where would you like to be found when it is worship time? Whether He comes or not, if it is His will, I want to be part of an assembly of Saints worshiping Him. It will be the Lord’s Day.

Praise Him! Praise Him!
